Director's Note:

As we dive into the big old blue, I am reminded of a few things: Hope, Connection, Teamwork, Trust, and Kindness. We may be lost, bullied or down sometimes, but we need to know we are never alone. As each of us navigate the world, I hope we can remember these things in our day to day lives. We hope for a brighter future, not just for ourselves but for each and everyone that crosses our path. We need to connect with one another and build real relationships to support each other. This will lead to teamwork as we can't do everything by ourselves. Trusting one another, can open opportunities to the future. Those opportunities are easier to find if we can spread kindness and treat everyone with respect. This leads back to the hope for the world and remembering we are never alone.

As you watch the show, I hope we can all learn from our fishy friends! Be kind to others and go with the flow. Thanks so much for taking the time to come to this production and helping us explore our big blue world.

Remember: Just Keep Swimming,

Cory Ott
